Based on the initial results of The Copper Mark audit, Essex Furukawa is creating an improvement plan to achieve The Copper Mark status at the four North American facilities assessed. Each plant will submit a specific corrective action plan to address The Copper Mark's findings, complete with detailed improvement measures to be taken.

Essex Furukawa was one of the first manufacturers to join as a semis-fabricator partner with The Copper Mark and remains committed to participation in its pilot program. The Copper Mark is the only comprehensive social and environmental assurance program for the copper industry. The partnership aligns Essex Furukawa and its holistic sustainability program, Vision 2030, to meet its Accountability, Reporting, and Governance goals as well as maintain Supply Chain Transparency.
